THE Domestic Trade and Living Costs Ministry will set up a special committee to deal with problems facing the music industry.

Its minister, Datuk Seri Salahuddin Ayub, said that the six-member committee would comprise representatives of the music industry namely composers, musicians and record companies, as well as two representatives of the ministry.

"We have been in touch with representatives of the industry of late, and have discussed several key issues such as the collection of royalties for artistes' works and the need for a centralised body to collect such royalties," he said a recent Berita Harian report.

"As a result, we have decided that the formation of an action committee is the best way to tackle longstanding problems faced by musicians."

Salahuddin also said that his ministry would consider introducing new legislation that established a centralised body to collect royalties along the lines of Music Rights Malaysia.

Menu Rahmah not disruptive to eateries

KOTA BHARU: The implementation of the Menu Rahmah Programme introduced by the Domestic Trade and Cost of Living Ministry for meals to be priced at RM5 or lower, remains relevant and does not interfere with the business model of the food operators or restaurants involved.

Its minister Datuk Seri Salahuddin Ayub said the Menu Rahmah options can not only help food traders earn more but also add value to the eatery in terms of promotions.

"Menu Rahmah remains relevant and we will not disrupt the business model of the eatery, in fact we will help to promote them.

"We hope that more traders are interested in participating in the Menu Rahmah programme because traders' participation in this programme is voluntary to help communities in need," he said at the Kelantan Menu Rahmah launch ceremony in Pasir Tumboh, here yesterday. - Bernama

Five nabbed over illegal possession of subsidised diesel

MALACCA: Five men were arrested with 26,000 litres of diesel in a raid on a warehouse at Bukit Rambai Industrial Park last night.

State Domestic Trade and Cost of Living director Norena Jaafar said the items seized included several tanks of diesel, two tanker lorries and cash amounting to RM400,000.

"During the raid, there were five workers including a Bangladeshi man, aged between 25 and 60, in the warehouse. A tanker lorry laden with diesel was ready to leave the scene," she said.

Norena added that the modus operandi of the syndicate was to purchase the subsidised diesel for RM500 at each station to avoid being detected and resell it on the black market, especially to industries at RM3.20 per litre.

She said the case is being investigated under the Control of Supply Act 1961.

Meanwhile in Negeri Sembilan, 27,300 litres of diesel, two tanker lorries and fuel-transfer equipment worth RM138,000 were also seized in a similar raid at Kampung Chuah in Port Dickson, said State Domestic Trade and Cost of Living director Muhammad Zahir Mazlan. - Bernama
